Hence not only Bossard but also its subsidiaries and affiliates shall be, if they wish so, treated by Supplier as its customers. In the case that Supplier has entered into legal relations with both Bossard or one or more of Bossard's subsidiaries or affiliates on the one hand and the parent company Bossard AG (Switzerland) on the other hand and unclarity exists about which GTC apply to these legal relations, the general terms and conditions of purchasing used by Bossard AG (Switzerland) shall prevail.

- Bossard and Supplier hereby agree, that Supplier shall provide Bossard and – upon request (particularly based on respective Logistic System) by and on behalf of Bossard – Bossard's customers (hereinafter referred to as the «Customers») with the goods and/or services as referred to in the present GTC.

Under the present GTC, Supplier shall provide:

Supplier is responsible to inform Bossard of substances defined by RoHS (2011/65/EU) and its amendments above the specified threshold.

- Supplier is aware of the fact that full compliance with all its duties under the present GTC is crucial to Bossard's ability to fulfill its obligations towards Customers.

  - It is understood between Bossard and Supplier that in order to properly handle any Logistic System, Bossard needs to have sufficient flexibility as to the timing and quantity questions related to its orders under the present GTC.

Hence, Bossard and Supplier may mutually define the measures granting such flexibility and at the same time controlling the thereto related consequences, including but not limited to measures relating to the avoidance of stock outs, overstock and obsolescence on the part of Bossard and/or Supplier.

- Unless Bossard and Supplier have otherwise mutually defined in writing,
  - Supplier shall be bound by the arrival dates and delivery quantities stated by in the Accepted Order/s, and
  - No short delivery and excess delivery in the amount of +/- 15% shall be deemed delivery of the due delivery quantity.

The arrival date shall be defined as the date on which the Parts arrive in Bossard's or (as the case may be) Customers' premises at the Place/s of Destination referred to in the Accepted Order or, in the absence of such reference and/or of an Accepted Order, as might be defined in the present GTC.

Unless otherwise provided in the present GTC, any reference to a Place of Destination shall be deemed a reference to the unloading ramp at such Place of Destination.

Advance and excess deliveries as well as partial deliveries shall require Bossard's explicit prior written approval. If advance deliveries or partial deliveries are kept, the due dates for payment shall be calculated as from the proper arrival date.

Bossard may – at the cost and at the risk of Supplier – return to Supplier or store (also in Bossard's or Customers' premises) any advance or excess deliveries.

Any late, short or not approved partial delivery of Parts to Bossard and – on behalf of Bossard – to Customers respectively as well as any situation where Customers' inventory levels cannot be duly maintained with Parts («Stock out Situation») due to Supplier not complying with the provisions of the present GTC shall constitute a default by Supplier in delivery.

Default in delivery shall not be subject to a reminder or a notice of default (in Dutch: ingebrekestelling). Upon default in delivery Bossard shall at its sole discretion be entitled – not being subject to grant a grace period – to ask for subsequent delivery or to withdraw from the respective order.
